Abell Says Bobison Is Booked for St. Louis. Another step toward the completion of the his baseball deal involving the consolidation of the Brooklyn and Baltimore clubs has been taken. Late on Thursday night Edward Hanion, President, and H. R. Vonderhorst, owner of the Baltimore Club, arrived in town and by mutual agreement held a secret conference in a room to the Hoffman House with F. A. Abell, principal owner of the Brooklyns, It was the first time that Abell and Vonderhorst had met since the deal was first broached. which was in itself significant. Abell in his conferences with Hanlon some time ago reached an agreement whereby, the two clubs could be consolidated, but Hanlon could not set without Vonderhorst's consent. The latter was ill at the time, so Hanlon went home without seeing him. Later Vonderhorst went to Baltimore, and, getting a line on the situaon from his manager, he concluded to see Abell. When the three magnates conferred on Thursday night, Vonderhorst asked Abell to repeat the terms that he had agreed upon with Hanlon. Abell politely asked Hanlon to do the honors instead. Accordingly the Baltimore manager went over the ground carefully and when he had finished Vonderhorst

Is that right, Aball?" "Every word of it is true," was the reply. Then Vonderhorst expressed satisfaction with the plan and other details were considered. It was practically agreed that when the clubs have been consolidated, in case nobody buys the Baltimore frauchise, the profits or losses will be pooled and divided equally. As both clubs are corporations and both have lost money in their respective cities, there are many things to be done before the consolidation can be legally made. All debts must be wiped out, the minor stockholders must be mollifled and other details must be arranged. After the magnates had ended their conference Abell said: "We talked over the deal, and I must say that the Baltimore men are acting very fairly. There are a number of obstacles in the way which must be removed, and some one of them might block the whole business. But from present indications things are pro-gressing nicely. Vonderhorst and Hanlon want to make the deal as much as I do, but it can't be done in a hurry, you know. We must take legal advice and find out just how must take legal advice and find out just how to preced."

Hanlon reiterated the statements already made in Tur Sun. He said further that when the time comes there will be no trouble with any of the Baltimore players. Vonderhorst declared that he was satisfied with the arrangements made so far, but, like Abell, he believed there were many little details that would have to be straightened out before rapers can be formally signed. It is practically settled that Hanlon will be both President and manager of the new Brooklyn Club. Ebbets will be Secretary and Treasurer, Abell and Vonderhorst not interfering in any way. When the deal has been completed it is Hanlon's intention to take all of the Brooklyn and Baltimore players to some Southern eity, where he will pick out the team that will play at Washington Park.

The story in THE SUN of yesterday to the freet that the League will probably control he franchise in St. Louis, in case the club is ought in at the receiver's sale by persons who have be objectionable to the magnates, was corroborated by Mr. Abell of the Brooklyn Club. When asked what he knew about the matter, the list of the control of the matter, the sale of the control of the

when asked what he knew about the matter, Abell said:

"The raport, wherever it came from, is true. I heard the matter discussed at the recent meeting hero and I know that the League has adopted a definite policy. From what I can learn there is only one man who will be acceptable to the League, and that is Robison of Cleveland. If he can get the club he will receive the franchise and can then take his strong ball team to that city without obstruction. As the League seems determined to strengthen the St. Louis end of the circuit, and as Robison has a team that brings about such a condition of affairs, I feel sure that if anything happens Tebeau's players will represent St. Louis next season or later. It is rather precarious business to buy a League hall club unless one feels sure that he receives the right to play ball with the other teams in the circuit. Those who would like to buy the St. Louis Club have not received assurance that they will be accepted by the League, consequently they would do well not to jump at conclusions. The present welvedue compact has three years to run. If at the end of that time the St. Louis Club should still be a financial loser because of poor management there is no doubt in my mind that the city would be dropped from the proposed new sight-club circuit, another lown like Milwaukee or Detroit being substituted."

In response to a telegram asking him whether he would try to take his team to St. Louis, Roblson wired from Cleveland yesterday that the receiver's sale on Jan. 5.

It has been practically settled that Yale will not engage a professional rowing coach for ext season. This much was admitted resterably by one of the men high up in rowing affairs at New Haven. In all probability a graduate will have charge of the coaching, while Kennedy, the professional carsman who assisted the Coach last case on may be assisted. nedy, the professional carsman who assisted Bob Cook last season, may be retained. Although the question of coach has been discussed by leading graduates, no definite conclusion has been reached. Dr. Percy Boiton is mentioned as a possible selection, and he has many followers. "Broncho." Armstrong, exCaptain of the crew, is also talked of. Both are said to be capable, although Boiton is thought to have slightly more experience. If any other man is under consideration, those in authority are keeping very quiet about him. are keeping very quiet about him.

The announcement that Joe Choynaki is suffering from blood poisoning has filled sporting men with feelings of regret. Choynaki is one of the few heavyweights who has always shown an inclination to fight rather than to haggle and talk. He is also one of the most intelligent fighters in the profession. As a second he has few equals. When handling a man he never falls to see an opponent's weakness and to take an immediate advantage of it. Since he was kneeked out at the Broadway A. C. by Maher Choynaki has not been considered among the first-raters, but those who know him best say that it was his intention, if successful in his bout with Rublin, to challenge not only Maher for another fight, but also to seek a meeting with the winner of the McCoysharkey battle. According to report, Choynaki will never be able to fight again. His various fights with Corbett made him spring into prominence.

NEWS OF THE WHEELMEN.

No Professionals Allowed in the Midnight

Run to Tarrytown. The Associated Cycling Clubs of New York have decided that no riders who have been declared professionals by the L. A. W. will be permitted to enter the race to Tarrytown tonight. The race will start from Fifty-ninth street, on the Boulevard, at one minute after midnight, and the winner will get a magnum of wine at Tarrytown. If the night is clear, the roads between New York and Tarrytown are likely to be well travelled by wheelmen when the new year breaks, as many have expressed their intention of being out, apart from those going in club runs.

lowers of cycle racing in the East will receive their first opportunity to see what "Baby" Gibson, the much touted youngster from Cincinson, the much touted youngster from Cincinnati, can do at following pace. Harry Elkes, the one-hour champion, has conceded a start of forty-five seconds in a ten-mile paced race to Gibson. This is a big handleap, and it should mean that the little fellow should have four laps, lead when Elkes gets under way. For the champion to make up the distance will be no easy task. The short distance races on the card are more attractive than they were last Monday. A race between four tandem teams is a feature.

Wheelmes who contamplate going to Porto.

Wheelmen who contemplate going to Porto Rico for either business or pleasure will be glad to know that there is some excellent riding on the island. There is one highway that runs diagonally across the country from Ponce to San Juan, that is eighty miles long and has an ideal riding surface. It is a macadam road that has been kept up on the plan of section work. About every three miles there is a stone house in which live laborers permanently hired to keep their particular section in repair. The road has a dich three feet deep on each side for drainage and culverts appear at regular intervals. The same can hardly be said of Cuba, although there are some excellent roads outside of Havana. There are mountain roads cut into the solid rock that are about perfect, and there is a fine road from About to Arroyo. Around Clenfuegos also there are some good macadam highways, but at Santiago there are no roads fit for wheeling.

NOTE. The Riverside Wheelmen have elected the following officers: President, J. M. Gentle: First Vice-President, W. Walton, Second Vice-President, W. P. Mershon; Secretary, B. W. Harrington: Teasurer, G. H. Creegan; Financial Secretary, G. W. Taylor; Captain, C. H. Meeks: Directors, Dr. C. L. Harrison, H. Maspero, J. L. Miller, E. A. Rogers and W. D. Butts.

Director Cann of the New York University discussed the proposed intercollegiate gymnastic meet, and he received many promises of support. The meet will be held at the gymnastium at University Heights. There will probably be twenty or thirty different colleges represented. Prizes will be awarded to the successful contestants in each event, and a handsome silver cun will be presented to the winner of the greatest number of points, who will be known as the Intercollegiate gymnastic champion. The points will probably be scored by the regular system, on the basis of 10 points for each movement or 30 points for each piece of apparatus. The 10 points for each movement will be divided as follows: Two for approach, 2 for exercise, 4 for form displayed and 2 for retreat. Each competitor will be limited to three movements in each event. There will be horizontal bar, side horae, (ence vault, parallel bars, rope climb, flying rings, "b swinging and tumbling. The judges of the contest will be chosen from among the most noted men in gymnastics.

FIGHTING.

A Clever Bout Between Barry and Leon Results in a Draw.

DAVENPORT, Dec. 30 .- For the fifth time in their fighting careers, Jimmy Barry, the American bantam champion of Chicago, and Casper Leon, the diminutive Italian boxer from New York, met last night at the Tri-City A. C. of this city in a twenty-round bout. Malachy Hogan of Chicago was referee. The decision was a draw. The purse offered was $1,500. Barry weighed in at 108 pounds at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, while Leon was just inside the 110-pound limit.

During the first three rounds Barry had things his own way, and when he landed on Leon's face just before the gong clanged an-nouncing the end of the third round, the however, Leon proved that he knew a thing or provoking manner. He followed this up with a straight punch on the wind and two hard rights on Jimmy's jaw. Both were careful after this, and, outside of a few light exchanges and feeble counters, nothing of note was done until nalling him in quick fashion with both hands.

Barry returned the blows with two good ones

Barry seemed to hold back in the eighth and ninth rounds and allowed Leon to do the leading. In the eleventh round some flerce fighting took place. Leon, after a couple of clinches,

Barry had Leon on the run in the twelfth round, and rushed Leon frequently to the ropes. Leon did not like to mix it up in the fourteenth round, and danced all around the Chicago man. The next three rounds were very hot. Both boxers did some good execution, and it was an even thing. Barry gavLeon a hard drubbing in the eighteenth and inteteenth rounds, and it looked as though he would win. Leon, however, roused himself in the final round. He rushed Barry all over the ring, landing with both hands. They exchanged heavy blows in clinches, and there were cries of "Foul!" When they broke Barry went in and lashed Leon with two rights. Casper almost silenced Barry with a bard right-hander on the mark, but the gong sounded too soon.

McCoy Will Object to Corbett Seeing Him Fight.

ASBURY PARK, Dec. 30.-If McCoy does not win his fight with Tom Sharkey on Jan. 10 i will not be because he has neglected his training. Long morning walks, active bag punching, sparring and rope skipping constitute his daily routine. This morning the Kid carried his "medicine" ball to a lot near the beach and spent some time with a number of young men tossing the sphere. He did his hardest men tossing the sphere. He did his hardest work to-day, but the training did not fatigue him. McCoy still adheres to his determination to keep Corbett from witnessing the mill and will make serious objections if the Californian is allowed in the building. In McCoy's mail today was a letter from a Pennsylvania railroad employee in Jersey City. He urged the "Kid" to exercise on a handbrake on a passenger coach, as this would develop his loak, arms and legs. McCoy is thinking seriously of trying the experiment.

Ice Yachting at Orange Lake.

NEWBURG, N. Y., Dec. 30,-There were two races on the ice at Orange Lake this afternoon. The ice was soft and covered with water, and the yachts sent up a spraylike the Hudson River steamers cutting through the River steamers cutting through the waves. The first race was for the Challenge Cup of 1888, the starters being Kernahan's Troubler, Commodore Higginson's Cold Wave, Waish's Arctic and Wood's Flying Jib. The Troubler proved to be the best and won in 30 minutes and 30 seconds. The Cold Wave was second and the other two were considerably behind. The wind was southwest.

The second race was for the championship pennant, and all of the boats in the first race entered, logether with the Jova Brather's Graziella. It was started late, but the ten miles was salled. The Troubler won again, with the Cold Wave second, and the other three boats finishing in the dark. The Troubler's time was 35 minutes.

Both representatives of Harvard and Columbia were winners. Webb tried a pawn to queen's opening against evening session Falk won a nawn by clever play, forced the exchange of all the pleecs, and although Webb played on for sixty-five moves he had to resign.

On the second board a Vienna game was opened by Arensberg against Weston. The latter, who does not seem to like open games, defended himself, as he has done in all his names in the tournament, very irregularly. He allowed Arensberg to gain entrance with both his rooks into his position, whereby the Princetonian had to put up with the loss of the exchange, and when the game had be adjudicated by Referee Helms at 10 o'clock he gave it a win for Arensberg. Sixty-five moves were made.

A queen's pawn opening was also selected by Cook on the third board against Meyer. Although at first the Yale man tried to conduct the game closely, it became pretty open after the first ten moves or so. Cook, who had good drawing chances, made an error, lost a piece, and, after forty-six moves, the game.

Ely, on the fourth board, fell back upon the French defence in his game against Southard, and he selected the variation recommended by Dr. Schmitt, the noted German analyst. Southard, however, got a strong attack shortly after the opening moves were made, and won after thirty-eight moves. The scores follow:

Indoor Baseball.

Teams representing the Second Signal Corps and the Second Naval Battalion played a game f indoor baseball last night in the armory of the Signalmen, Dean street and Washington avenue, Brooklyn, before a large crowd of spectators. The game settled down to a slugging match after the first inning and both singing match after the first inning and both pitchers were hit hard throughout. Quimby, however, settled down in the last inning, and by clever work shut out the amsteur sallormen. The batting order of both teams was: Signal Corps—Condon, r. f., Tenney, 2d b.; Eyers, 8d b.; McWilliams, 1st b.; Quimby, p.; Earle, s. s.; Winters, c.; Glaslin, c. f.; Beyers, l. f.

These were disturbed, but were unwilling to do anything to strain the relations between the two parties any more than they were strained already. A man well informed in the situation said yesterday:

"We are going to meet to-morrow to ask forgiveness for all the sins we have committed during the past year. It will be a love feast when the Liberals and Conservatives propose to shake hands and make up, and agree to stop quarrelling if we can. We have all been made to realize the state of affairs of our denomination in this city, and that something has got to be done. What that something will be remains to be seen.

"It will be interesting to note how many of the Liberals will be present, as I understand that the meeting was called at the instigation of the Conservatives, who were put out because they were not invited to take part in the Riverdale retreat. It is intended to keep out denominational politics. The situation is so critical at present that I understand several pastors have expressed a desire to leave the city. tors have expressed a desire to leave the city, provided that they could get equally as good churches elsewhere."

OVERCROWDED ELEVATED TRAINS Complaints from Passengers Who Ride on Complaints have been frequent of late from passengers on the Sixth avenue elevated road regarding the train service after 10 o'clock at night. People having occasion to get on board stations above Twenty-third street have found the trains crowded and have been forced to stand up. The complaints concern particularly the up-bound trains, though the down trains are also crowded about the time of the closing of the theatres, and in both directions the intervals between the arrival of trains has

Those who attend will be in exective session all day, and refreshments will be served in the church at noon. The extra trains may have caused congestion from time to time, resulting in some irregularity. This week we have reduced the evening trains to the regular number, and run on six-minute headway up to midnight. I have been on the cars after 10 o'clock and have noticed no crowding. Of course, in a case where several theatres let out within five minutes of each other, there would be a pressure on some one train that would overcrowd it, but this is a difficulty impossible to overcome.
